

Your Art in the Marketplace

Panel Discussion

Northampton Community College-Monroe Campus

Keystone Hall, Room 202

June 22, 2017, 6:30 PM

Tom Shillea, NCC Art Department Chair, Moderator

Join three art professionals in a panel discussion on how to get YOUR art seen and purchased by potential buyers.

Santa Bannon - award winning gallerist, international art broker/dealer, curator, advisor, and collector. Her high profile, full service gallery, SBFA/Santa Bannon Fine Art located in Bethlehem PA, exclusively represents distinguished mid-career and veteran Pennsylvania artists, the estates of several accomplished artists, and occasionally exhibits stellar emerging artists. Topics she will cover include: who buys art; what and where do collectors buy art; are there trends in art; the difference between the primary and secondary art markets; how to get noticed in the art world; how to market artwork; how to develop appropriate prices; how to fund an art career; getting artwork published; and what do gallerists look for regarding artist representation.

Joni Oye Benintende is an associate professor and chair of the Art + Design Department at East Stroudsburg University of Pennsylvania. She will talk about the advice given students as they enter the art marketplace including entrepreneurship and the difference between art and design and fine art.

Nezka Pfeifer is curator at the Everhart Museum in Scranton PA. Nezka will discuss what she looks for as she sets up exhibits based upon variables such as exhibition themes and materials. Her experience lends itself to looking at a portfolio and choosing one or two pieces to include in an exhibition or acquiring for the museum's collection.

Prior to the presentation, the Opening Reception for the 3rd Annual Pocono Art Collage will be held in the Dunning Art Gallery, Keystone Hall. The Dunning Gallery is immediately adjacent to Keystone Hall 201, location of the presentation. The following Pocono Art organizations are participating: Pocono Mountain Art Council, Pocono Photo Club, Pocono Painters, Pocono Arts Council, Pocono Water Color Associates, and Pocono Mountain Art Group.

Both the reception and panel discussion are free and open to the public.

2017 Suzanne Anderson Scholarships

Suzanne Anderson was a strong supporter of all the arts, but especially music, having served as president for many years of the Music Study Club and active in the Pocono Arts Council's Youth in Music Excellence Awards. Upon her death in January, 2013, she included the Pocono Arts Council in her will to "establish a scholarship for a student majoring in the arts in college." At the 2017 Spring for the Arts Gala, PoconoArts honored Suzanne's wishes by awarding two $500 scholarships to Kate Martin and Victoria Padmos for their continued studies.

Kate Martin is a senior from Pocono Mountain West High School who will attend Temple University to major in film in the fall. She aspires to be a filmmaker in the future. She has been active in the PMWHS Musical Theater Program and National Art Honor Society throughout High School. She recently accepted the Law Day Creativity Award from the Monroe County Bar Association for her short film "A Women's Tale". A Women's Tale can be viewed on YouTube at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=k-NHwwNUWm0&feature=youtu.be>. It is a wonderful look at the way the youth of today look at the role of women in society.

Victoria Padmos is a senior from Pocono Mountain East High School who will major in Music Therapy as a vocal major at Arizona State University next year. Victoria discovered music therapy in eighth grade while exploring majors and realized that it was a perfect fit - combining her love of music with wanting to help people. Her choice was solidified last summer when she worked with Music Therapist, Sheryl Mozdian, in a geriatric setting. In addition to Music Therapy, Tori is currently enrolled in numerous extracurricular music activities, including, marching band, where she is the Drum Major, and the Tri-M Music Honor Society, serving as the first President of her chapter. She also takes five music courses, including one independent study, which will prepare her to be the first person at her school to take the AP Music Theory test. Tori was accepted this past season to march with the East Stroudsburg University Marching Band as a member of the clarinet section and earned her Girl Scout Gold Award this past winter by being the 2016 Pocono Township Bi-Centennial Entertainment Coordinator.

Congratulations Kate & Victoria!

The NEW PoconoArts Website is UP & Running
